MOBILE GUARDS QUELL CROWDS

Tunisian Newspaper Urges Suspension Of Duce's Publication

TUNIS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Mobile guards armed with rifles and revolvers aided police today in breaking up new attempts of the French and native population to demonstrate against Italy.

Apparently under orders to crack down with greater vigor, the reinforced military units arrested scores of persons and scattered several crowds that sought to assemble in the streets. Several minor clashes occurred but no serious casualties. Tension continued high.

The French War Veterans association of Tunisia joined authorities in attempting to prevent disorders, issuing a call for the demonstrations to cease.

"Our association will take the initiative in a more dignified protest which will be more effective against Italian expansionist aspirations," the announcement said.

Would Suppress Paper

The newspaper "Gazette of Israel" demanded that officials suppress the Italian Fascist newspaper "Unione" as a danger to the city.

Authorities planned to hold a dozen leaders for trial in hope of ending the increasingly angry manifestations against Italian agitation for surrender of Tunis and other French possessions.

Erik LaBonne, French resident general, induced leaders of the Christian population to work against any further outbreaks. But despite appeals for order, Arabs, just beginning to show their own resentment, were restive.

Carrying red banners, hundreds of Arabs tried to group in the streets last night to force a way to the Italian consulate general to express their displeasure over the Italian agitation. They were met

OUSTED W. P. A. POSSE SEEKING MEN TO PICKET TWO WHO FLED JACKSON JOBS WITH WATCHES

JACKSON, O., Dec. 9.—(UP)—A shutdown of all W. P. A. projects in Jackson county was threatened today when more than 100 W. P. A. workers began picketing jobs from which they had been dismissed for alleged loafing.

Appearing at the courthouse here yesterday a large group demanded that county commissioners find a way to reinstate them. The spokesman for the workers said that unless something is done they will attempt to picket and close down every project in the county.

According to Commissioner Oscar Bennett, they have already temporarily halted three projects employing more than 100 men.

The W. P. A. employed approximately 1,800 men in Jackson county before dismissals this week.

JUDGE APPOINTS ROSE MURRAY TO COURT POSITION

Miss Rose Murray, formerly of Circleville now residing in Worthington, will become Pickaway county court stenographer on Jan. 1 succeeding Miss Helen Rowe.

Appointment of Miss Murray was announced Friday by Judge Meeker Terwilliger.

Judge Terwilliger said she served under Judge Festus Walters, when he was on the circuit bench at London, and under Judges Charles Dresbach and Clarence Curtin in Pickaway county. She resigned her position here during the judgeship of Judge Curtin to accept a position in the Industrial Commission, Columbus.

Miss Murray will move to Circleville in the near future.

Miss Rowe, who was appointed by the late Judge Joseph W. Adkins, is completing her tenth year as stenographer.

LaGuardia Told To Quit Attacking Nazis Or Face Death

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(UP)—A special police guard was arranged for Mayor F. H. LaGuardia at his citizens' rally against oppression at Carnegie Hall tonight because of a threat against his life.

Fingerprint and ballistics experts of the police department and post office inspectors examined a letter and a loaded cartridge enclosed in it. The letter read: "You will get this if you continue to attack the German Nazi party." The signature was a reversed Swastika—the Nazi emblem backwards. The bullet was a .22 caliber long. It was encased in a small cardboard box. The handwriting was bold and upright.

LaGuardia took the letter seriously. It was postmarked Long Island City, N. Y., at midnight Wednesday and arrived with the first mail at city hall yesterday.

"Usually I ignore messages like this from cranks, but this one is different and I think it should be made public," the mayor said. He said it was the first letter he had ever received directly threatening his life.

The mayor's denunciations of Adolf Hitler have provoked scathing Nazi attacks on him since he opened the subject March 3, 1937, by telling a meeting of Jewish women that Hitler's picture should be put in a "Chamber of Horrors."

FILM STARS ASK MOVE AGAINST NAZI GERMANY

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Movie stars sponsored today a campaign to boycott Nazi Germany.

It followed closely the snub Hollywood handed Leni Riefenstahl, German actress known as "Hitler's girl friend." It was undertaken at a meeting last night in the home of Edward G. Robinson.

Melvyn Douglas presided, and more than a dozen other movie celebrities attended.

They drew what they said was a "1938 declaration of independence," calling on President Roosevelt and congress to break off all economic connection with Germany "until such time as Germany is willing to return to the family of nations in accordance with the principles of international law and universal freedom."

Copies, bearing the names of 36 original signers chosen from among Hollywood movie celebrities, will be circulated in theatres and elsewhere throughout the country in an effort to collect millions of endorsements, it was announced.

Douglas said the original 56 signers would include Fred Astaire, Gale Sondergaard, Joan Bennett, Bette Davis, Robert Montgomery, Claudette Colbert, Paul Muni, Ginger Rogers, Martha Raye, Miriam Hopkins, Groucho Marx, Gloria Stuart, Claude Rains, George Cukor, Rosemary Lane, Anatole Litvak, Aline McMahon, John Ford, Fay Bainter and Helen Gahagan. The city owes the utility more than $12,000 now and by Feb. 14 the debt will be $15,000. Three attempts to obtain passage of a three-mill levy to pay off the debt failed, so the contract will not be renewed, according to the mayor.

Hoodin Has "Every Reason To Believe" Confession Made In Letters

Story Of Last Three Days Told By Cincinnati Who Fought For Life

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.—(UP)—There is "every reason to believe" Anna Marie Hahn, Cincinnati poison murderess executed Wednesday night, made a complete confession of her crimes, Joseph H. Hoodin and Hiram C. Bolsinger, her attorneys, said today.

Four envelopes which Mrs. Hahn turned over to him just before she went to her death, contain the answer, Hoodin said.

He will not open the envelopes for several days "until I collect myself from the experience of the last several days," Hoodin said.

Hoodin, who directed the last-hour legal fight to save the blonde Bavarian from the electric chair Wednesday night in Columbus, said Mrs. Hahn had asked for him on her last walk to the death chamber.

"Had Something"

"Several times during the last three days before Mrs. Hahn was executed and I visited her in her cell, she told me she would have something for me," Hoodin asserted. "She told me that she wanted to talk to me when all hope for her was gone."

Not until one hour before the scheduled electrocution did Hoodin lose in the final court battle before Federal Judge Mel G. Underwood who refused a writ of habeas corpus. Previously, Hoodin had carried the case unsuccessfully to the Ohio and U. S. Supreme courts.

"When I visited her for the last time after the habeas corpus writ was refused, I told her I had no further steps," Hoodin related.

"Mrs. Hahn motioned me to get her papers in a section of the cell. I collected them but when I started to talk with her again she was so overcome that she was not coherent. I left her cell," he said.

"I guess she did have something to say to me because my associate, Sidney Brant, who walked with her to the death chamber, reports she kept crying for me because she had something to say to

NEGROES JAILED FOR BEATING 20 WHITE CHILDREN

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Five Negroes were held without bail in the county jail today charged with atrocious assault and battery on 20 white children in a school bus.

Robert Parker, supervisor of schools, said the attack probably was in revenge for the reprimanding several weeks ago of several Negro children, who also ride in the bus, for profane and boisterous language.

Three of the white children were badly beaten. The attackers were said to have used clubs.

The bus driver, Harry Gsell, said he had picked up the children as usual yesterday evening and had driven without incident to Buckton, where he delivers the Negro pupils. The 20 white passengers, boys and girls ranging in age from 11 to 17, rode farther into West-hampton township.

At the Buckton stop, Gsell said, five Negroes, two men and three women, were waiting. One of the Negro boys paused getting off the bus and shouted back: "You're going to get it now."

The five adults then forced their way into the bus and began beating the white children. The older boys tried to defend themselves and their companions and were soundly clubbed, Gsell said. When he managed to get the attackers out of the bus, he delivered the children to their homes.

LEBANON, O., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Two admitted bank robbers and their two women accomplices were in custody of authorities today after kidnaping a state patrolman and starting one of the greatest mobilizations in the history of the Ohio highway patrol.

The men, captured in Washington C. H. after a five-hour search, were registered as David L. Cross, 29, Hamilton, Pa., and Coy Russell, 29, Houston, Tex. They were charged with kidnaping, armed robbery and automobile theft.

The women held in the Warren county jail here, were booked under the names of Naomi Hayes, 25, Steele, Mo., and Marie Day, 25, Greenup Ky.

Sixty patrolmen, directed personally by Col. Lynn Black, state patrol superintendent, participated, in the search that was concentrated in southwestern Ohio. They were aided by dozens of sheriffs' officers and 10 Indiana state patrolmen.

Captured on Bus

Cross and Russell were captured by Capt. Jess Ellis and Patrolman Baiden Long, 34, on a Columbus-bound bus at Washington C. H. after they had abducted Corporal Parker W. Powell near Waynesville and had left him bound and handcuffed in a field near Ridgeville.

Capt. Ellis and Patrolman Long, a rookie of nine months service, boarded the bus about 1 a. m. Long walked to the back of the bus with drawn pistol. Cross and Russell were armed with three guns, one of which they had taken from Powell.

"Give us your gun," one of the men shouted as Long advanced. But he kept on and knocked the gun from one of the men's hands. "We give up," Cross and Russell said.

They were taken to the state patrol sub-station at Wilmington where they confessed to Col. Black that they had obtained $2,700 in a holdup of the bank at Sebring, near Alliance, Thursday morning. Cross was said to have admitted robbing a bank in Columbia county of $7,000 early in 1937.

When captured, the men had $1,300. The two women, captured in Kings Mills earlier by Sergeant Harvey Kurth and Patrolman Paul Clark of the Middletown police, had $300.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Sen. Burke, D., Neb., said today that he would introduce a constitutional amendment on the first day of the next congress limiting presidents of the United States to one term of six years each.

Burke's announcement came with expansion of the controversy over the possibility of a third term for President Roosevelt. Although the President has made no statement, some of his friends, both in and out of congress, have indicated that they would urge him to seek a third term.

Burke, an opponent of most New Deal legislation and opposed to a third term, said that his "compelling reason" for proposing such an amendment was what he saw as a trend toward more power for the chief executive. He said his statement was not directed at the present administration solely, saying the general trend of government for many years had been in that direction.

He contended that President Andrew Jackson, in each of his messages to congress, urged adoption of a single term. He also said that the Democratic national convention in 1912 placed a plank

The officers left Circleville about 9:30 p. m., and reported at the Wilmington station of the State Highway Patrol. They were assigned from there to check roads. The officers returned Friday about 4 a. m.

LEBANON, O., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Two admitted bank robbers and their two women accomplices were in custody of authorities today after kidnaping a state patrolman and starting one of the greatest mobilizations in the history of the Ohio highway patrol.

The men, captured in Washington C. H. after a five-hour search, were registered as David I. Cross, 29, Hamilton, Pa., and Coy Russell, 29, Houston, Tex. They were charged with kidnaping, armed robbery and automobile theft.

The women held in the Warren county jail here, were booked under the names of Naomi Hayes, 25, Steele, Mo., and Marie Day, 25, Greenup Ky.

Sixty patrolmen, directed personally by Col. Lynn Black, state patrol superintendent, participated in the search that was concentrated in southwestern Ohio. They were aided by dozens of sheriffs' officers and 10 Indiana state patrolmen.

Captured on Bus

Cross and Russell were captured by Capt. Jess Ellis and Patrolman Baiden Long, 34, on a Columbus-bound bus at Washington C. H. after they had abducted Corporal Parker W. Powell near Waynesville and had left him bound and handcuffed in a field near Ridgeville.

Capt. Ellis and Patrolman Long, a rookie of nine months service, boarded the bus about 1 a. m. Long walked to the back of the bus with drawn pistol. Cross and Russell were armed with three guns, one of which they had taken from Powell.

"Give us your gun," one of the men shouted as Long advanced.

But he kept on and knocked the gun from one of the men's hands. "We give up," Cross and Russell said.

They were taken to the state patrol sub-station at Wilmington where they confessed to Col. Black that they had obtained $2,700 in a holdup of the bank at Sebring, near Alliance, Thursday morning. Cross was said to have admitted robbing a bank in Columbia county of $7,000 early in 1937.

When captured, the men had $1,300. The two women, captured in Kings Mills earlier by Sergeant Harvey Kurth and Patrolman Paul Clark of the Middletown police, had $300.

HITLER MAKES BIGGEST NEWS OF YEAR 1938

Sudeten Crisis Listed As Outstanding Event; Munich Recalled

CORRIGAN RATED FIFTH

Germany's Austrian Union, G. O. P. Gains Declared Of Great Import

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany dominated world news in 1938, according to a list of the twelve big news stories of the year as announced today by the United Press.

The selections were made by the editors of the United Press in New York, where dispatches from correspondents around the world pass over the domestic and foreign desks before being distributed to newspapers in the United States and South America.

Nazi policies were responsible for three of the first four leading stories of the year, whereas so-called "crime news" and domestic politics figured less prominently than in previous years.

Earl J. Johnson, U. P. vice-president and general news manager, described 1938 as the biggest news year since the World War.

All Concerned
"More stories of genuine concern to people in practically all countries developed this year than in any twelve months since 1918," Johnson said.

"Nineteen twenty-seven produced tremendous headlines with Lindbergh's flight to Paris and the other ocean flights of that summer. But the value of those stories was mainly inspiration and entertainment. They did not vitally affect human life. The inauguration of President Roosevelt made 1933 a big year for domestic news, but in terms of world-wide appeal even the top stories of 1933 rate below those of 1938."

- The 1938 list follows:
1. Sudeten crisis culminating in Munich pact.
 2. Germany's union with Austria.
 3. Republican gains in off-year elections.
 4. Germany's anti-Semitic campaign.
 5. Douglas Corrigan's "wrong way" flight to Ireland.
 6. New England hurricane.
 7. Orson Welles' "Martian" broadcast.
 8. John Ward's Gotham hotel leap.
 9. Enactment of wages and hours law.
 10. Development of United States foreign policy.
 11. Franco-Italian colonies crisis.
 12. Confession of Richard Whitney.

Washington C. H. Officers Arrest Suspects In Back Seat Of Bus

bus at Foster, in southern Warren county. They were to be brought from Wilmington to the Warren county jail here today.

Investigated Wreck
Corporal Powell, 29, was kidnapped when he answered a call to investigate an accident near Waynesville on route 73 last night. The two men and two women asked him to aid them in getting to Wilmington.

Powell stopped a car driven by Joe Sheldon of Greenville. While helping to transfer baggage to Sheldon's car, Powell noticed a sub-machine gun on the back seat of the wrecked car. Cross and Russell pointed guns at Powell and Sheldon.

They commandeered the patrol car and Sheldon's sedan and forced the patrolman to accompany them. Sheldon was left standing by the road.

They drove north of Lebanon, tied Powell with a rope and handcuffed him with his own cuffs. They drove away, leaving Powell by the road. He managed to free himself within a few minutes with a spare handcuff key in his pocket.

The patrol car, with the motor running, was found seven miles north of here. Powell telephoned his Wilmington headquarters and the search was on.

Sheldon's car was found wrecked near South Lebanon, five miles south of here.

Keys Thrown Away
Louis Luedeke, 65, Hopkinsville, reported that two men struck him and attempted to take his car but that he threw away the keys. A South Lebanon school teacher also reported that two men tried to steal her car. Both said the men were in a coupe. The coupe was found abandoned later near the village.

A "tri-state blockade" was established. Ohio and Indiana patrolmen blocked all roads in the vicinity. Michigan patrolmen watched their border. Literally, hundreds of Ohio police helped to look for the fugitives.

Not a shot was fired in the entire search, however.

Capt. George Mingle aided Col. Black in directing the search. The automobile which figured in the accident Powell was called to investigate was reported stolen in Fairfield, Neb., on Nov. 16. It bore Missouri license plates.

The women separated from the men some time during the chase.

SEBRING, O., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Police here today were awaiting word from Wilmington authorities on the reported confession of two men held there, that they robbed a bank here yesterday.

The Midland-Buckeye Federal Savings & Loan Co., was held up here at 9:45 a. m. yesterday by two men who escaped with $2700 in cash.

In the loan company when the robbers entered were Lester Johnson, a customer; John Reddy, an attorney; Alice Pope, assistant secretary and Mary Jane Turner, an employee.

The four were forced into a washroom and the door locked. When they succeeded in freeing themselves, the robbers had disappeared. No one outside the bank was aware of the holdup.

Police here will probably take the four victims to Wilmington.

TEST OF NEW AIRLINER ENDS IN FATAL WRECK

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Four members of the crew of a new Lockheed airliner of the Netherlands airlines were killed today when the plane crashed in taking off at Shiphof airport for a test flight. No passengers were aboard.

DIXIE DAVIS DIVORCED
RENO, Nev., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Mrs. Martha Delaney Davis is divorced today from J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, indicted "mouthpiece" of New York policy racketeers, who abandoned her for Hope Dare, the Broadway show girl.

MORGAN TURNS DOWN BRICKER OFFER OF JOB

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Speculation was renewed today over Governor-elect John W. Bricker's selection for state commerce director in his cabinet after Bricker disclosed that Daniel E. Morgan, former Cleveland city manager, had declined an offer of the position.

Bricker said Morgan declined on the grounds he could not afford to give the time to a state post. The governor-elect pledged his cooperation to the Cleveland crime commission in its effort to enact legislation permitting probate judges to commit mental defectives to state institutions for trial periods.

by reinforcement of mobile guards, brought from Algeria.

Mounted mobile guards charged onto cafe terraces in dispersing mobs, overturning tables and spilling drinks.

ROME, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Hundreds of policemen and carabinieri swept down on students holding an anti-French demonstration today, dispersed them after scuffles in which noses were bloodied, and arrested several.

Observers expressed belief that the apparent change of official policy regarding demonstrations might be of some significance, and that authorities might have decided to prevent further manifestations.

Students Gather
Several hundred high school students gathered this morning, as other students had done in past days without discouragement.

They marched down the Corso Umberto, shouting "Tunisia! Corsica!" and tried to reach the Venice square to hold a demonstration before the office of Premier Benito Mussolini.

MAN WINS REPRIEVE

REIDSVILLE, Ga., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Tom Dickerson, gaunt farmer condemned to die for slaying an infant allegedly borne him by his unwed daughter, received a last-minute stay of execution from Gov. E. D. Rivers today. Tattall prison officials proceeded with plans to execute six other men, Negroes, who were convicted of murder.

The bill as passed by the senate last March would have permitted Mr. Roosevelt to reorganize the executive departments with his orders automatically effective after 60 days unless they were rescinded by two-thirds votes in each house of congress. The bill passed in that form after the senate barely defeated a Wheeler amendment providing that no executive reorganization order could become effective until congress specifically approved it by joint resolution. The bill finally was rejected by the house.

LABOR DISPUTES FAIL TO HALT AUTO INDUSTRY

DETROIT, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Stoppage of work due to labor disputes failed to affect materially automotive production this week, trade publications said today as they estimated the week's output at more than 100,000 cars and trucks.

Automotive News estimated production at 104,400 units compared with 101,700 last week and 87,500 in the corresponding week last year. The present production pace indicates a December total of 400,000 units, the publication said, which would exceed the November output and be approximately 53,000 greater than for December of 1937.

Production gains at Ford and Chrysler offset loss at Buick due to a strike this week.

bus at Foster, in southern Warren county. They were to be brought from Wilmington to the Warren county jail here today.

Investigated Wreck
Corporal Powell, 29, was kidnapped when he answered a call to investigate an accident near Waynesville on route 73 last night. The two men and two women asked him to aid them in getting to Wilmington.

Powell stopped a car driven by Joe Sheldon of Greenville. While helping to transfer baggage to Sheldon's car, Powell noticed a sub-machine gun on the back seat of the wrecked car. Cross and Russell pointed guns at Powell and Sheldon.

They commandeered the patrol car and Sheldon's sedan and forced the patrolman to accompany them. Sheldon was left standing by the road.

They drove north of Lebanon, tied Powell with a rope and handcuffed him with his own cuffs. They drove away, leaving Powell by the road. He managed to free himself within a few minutes with a spare handcuff key in his pocket.

The patrol car, with the motor running, was found seven miles north of here. Powell telephoned his Wilmington headquarters and the search was on.

Sheldon's car was found wrecked near South Lebanon, five miles south of here.

Keys Thrown Away

Louis Luedeke, 65, Hopkinsville, reported that two men struck him and attempted to take his car but that he threw away the keys. A South Lebanon school teacher also reported that two men tried to steal her car. Both said the men were in a coupe. The coupe was found abandoned later near the village.

A "tri-state blockade" was established. Ohio and Indiana patrolmen blocked all roads in the vicinity. Michigan patrolmen watched their border. Literally, hundreds of Ohio police helped to look for the fugitives.

Not a shot was fired in the entire search, however.

Capt. George Mingle aided Col. Black in directing the search. The automobile which figured in the accident Powell was called to investigate was reported stolen in Fairfield, Neb., on Nov. 16. It bore Missouri license plates.

The women separated from the men some time during the chase.

SEBRING, O., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Police here today were awaiting word from Wilmington authorities on the reported confession of two men held there, that they robbed a bank here yesterday.

The Midland-Buckeye Federal Savings & Loan Co., was held up here at 9:45 a. m. yesterday by two men who escaped with $2700 in cash.

In the loan company when the robbers entered were Lester Johnson, a customer; John Reddy, an attorney; Alice Pope, assistant secretary and Mary Jane Turner, an employee.

The four were forced into a washroom and the door locked. When they succeeded in freeing themselves, the robbers had disappeared. No one outside the bank was aware of the holdup.

Police here will probably take the four victims to Wilmington.

TEST OF NEW AIRLINER ENDS IN FATAL WRECK

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Four members of the crew of a new Lockheed airliner of the Netherlands airlines were killed today when the plane crashed in taking off at Siphool airport for a test flight. No passengers were aboard.

DIXIE DAVIS DIVORCED

RENO, Nev., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Mrs. Martha Delaney Davis is divorced today from J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, indicted "mouthpiece" of New York policy racketeers, who abandoned her for Hope Dare, the Broadway show girl.

MORGAN TURNS DOWN BRICKER OFFER OF JOB

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Speculation was renewed today over Governor-elect John W. Bricker's selection for state commerce director in his cabinet after Bricker disclosed that Daniel E. Morgan, former Cleveland city manager, had declined an offer of the position.

Bricker said Morgan declined on the grounds he could not afford to give the time to a state post. The governor-elect pledged his cooperation to the Cleveland crime commission in its effort to enact legislation permitting probate judges to commit mental defectives to state institutions for trial periods.

by reinforcement of mobile guards, brought from Algeria.

Mounted mobile guards charged onto cafe terraces in dispersing mobs, overturning tables and spilling drinks.

ROME, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Hundreds of policemen and carabinieri swept down on students holding an anti-French demonstration today, dispersed them after scuffles in which noses were bloodied, and arrested several.

Observers expressed belief that the apparent change of official policy regarding demonstrations might be of some significance, and that authorities might have decided to prevent further manifestations.

Students Gather

Several hundred high school students gathered this morning, as other students had done in past days without discouragement. They marched down the Corso Umberto, shouting "Tunisia! Corsica!" and tried to reach the Venice square to hold a demonstration before the office of Premier Benito Mussolini.

MAN WINS PREVIEW

REIDSVILLE, Ga., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Tom Dickerson, gaunt farmer condemned to die for slaying an infant allegedly borne him by his unwed daughter, received a last-minute stay of execution from Gov. E. D. Rivers today. Tattal prison officials proceeded with plans to execute six other men, Negroes, who were convicted of murder.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Breaking sharply away from the usual current type of western film, "The Law West of Tombstone" appearing at the Grand Theatre Friday and Saturday presents a colorful portrait of a braggart Westerner and his adventures as the basis of its warmly human plot.

Harry Carey has the title-role of the boastful but dead-snot Texan who establishes himself, with his guns and his one law-book, as "The Law West of Tombstone," and runs the frontier town and the lives of its citizens with reckless hand.

The story opens in New York City some sixty years ago. Carey is ideally fitted in the role of a braggadocio Westerner, a role for which his long delineation of Western character has peculiarly equipped him. Jean Rouverol and Tim Holt, as a young romantic couple, Clarence Kolb in the role of the Wall Street man, and Evelyn Brent in that of Carey's former wife, with Esther Muir, Bradley Page, Allan Lane and Paul Guilfoyle all have important roles.

Suggested by the famous "Peck's Band Boy" stories which delighted readers a generation ago, "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus," coming to the Grand Theatre this Sunday, stars Tommy Kelly in the first of a new series concerning the delightful adventures of the young fiction hero.

AT THE CLIFTONA

With a star-studded cast including Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter, "The Shining Hour" opens at the Cliftona Theatre Sunday for an engagement of three days.

Miss Crawford plays a role which parallels her own career as a

Broadway dancer and is reminiscent of her first starring pictures in dancing roles.

The story, directed by Frank Borzage, centers around a world-famous dancer who, tiring of the glare of the spotlight, marries a wealthy farmer. Complications ensue when her husband's sister resents the presence of the dancer in the family home. To make matters worse, her brother-in-law falls in love with her.

"The Shining Hour" marks the first time that Joan Crawford and Margaret Sullivan have played in the same picture. Both Young and Douglas have appeared with the star in several productions.

Ashville Community Club Plans Holiday Activities

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

As Christmas time approaches, the Community Club which had become "ailing and near unto its demise," is showing signs of a complete recovery—getting better day by day. A meeting was held at Atty. Margulis' office to work out some plan by which Christmas might be fittingly celebrated.

Last year at near Christmas time, the Community Club gave $50 to the ladies of the three churches to prepare and distribute baskets of food or such articles as they cared to prepare and which was to be distributed among the most needy families. The same kind of distributions is to be made this Christmas.

Too, it was decided to repeat with a Christmas tree erected in the same location as that of last year, at the intersection of Main and Long streets. The tree has already been purchased and will be in place within a short time.

And more than these Christmas plans, it was decided to make an effort to get the Community Club to functioning again as it once did, and to this end it was planned to hold a meeting at the dairy dining room on Wednesday evening, January 4. At this meeting it is hoped to make a start toward perfecting an organization with some degree of permanency. Sixty-four Ashville Citizens composed the Community Club in 1920 and of this number nineteen are deceased.

The different church here and in the nearby districts, are busy preparing for the coming Christmas exercises. . . . The sick people are in most part reported improving. O. W. Wills, quite ill for a couple of days, hopes to be back at the cashier's window in the Ashville bank now soon. . . . Around to Fred Curry's cement block factory yesterday and they were plenty busy getting out a new stock of them. Said that business has been good with them all Fall. Ed Trego is building a block garage at Commercial Point using Curry's blocks. Herb Gregg is construction man. . . .

Thomas Tilley, 83 years young this coming February first, was here Thursday. He lives in a neat little dwelling north of what is known as the A. K. Smith farm. Says his cook (himself) can get up a meal in short order and good enough for anybody and even likes dish washing. But the hunters, he said, mistook some of his fine chickens for wild game, killed and carried them away. And he has a decided opinion of any hunter doing this kind of job.

He suffered a brain concussion, cuts and bruises. Vandagriff was admitted to the hospital about 10:30 a. m., and did not regain consciousness until about 5 p. m. The car he was driving went into a ditch. He was riding alone and no other car was involved in the mishap, officers said.

450 AT FAMILY NIGHT OF CHEVROLET COMPANY

Approximately 450 persons enjoyed the "Family Night Party" held Thursday in the Harden-Stevenson garage, 132 E. Franklin street. Company officials said they were unable to accommodate all the persons attending the party.

It is estimated at least 1,000 persons enjoyed the sound pictures presented in the show. Three sound movies were shown at the high school during the afternoon and at the Ralston-Purina mill at the noon hour.

The party program at the garage lasted an hour and a half. The program included six sound movies and an outstanding vaudeville by a troupe of seven persons.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Breaking sharply away from the usual current type of western film, "The Law West of Tombstone" appearing at the Grand Theatre Friday and Saturday presents a colorful portrait of a braggart Westerner and his adventures as the basis of its warmly human plot.

Harry Carey has the title-role of the boastful but dead-shot Texan who establishes himself, with his guns and his one law-book, as "The Law West of Tombstone," and runs the frontier town and the lives of its citizens with reckless hand.

The story opens in New York City some sixty years ago. Carey is ideally fitted in the role of a braggadocio Westerner, a role for which his long delineation of Western character has peculiarly equipped him. Jean Rouverol and Tim Holt, as a young romantic couple, Clarence Kolb in the role of the Wall Street man, and Evelyn Brent in that of Carey's former wife, with Esther Muir, Bradley Page, Allan Lane and Paul Guilfoyle all have important roles.

Suggested by the famous "Peck's Band Boy" stories which delighted readers a generation ago, "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus", coming to the Grand Theatre this Sunday, stars Tommy Kelly in the first of a new series concerning the delightful adventures of the young fiction hero.

AT THE CLIFTONA

With a star-studded cast including Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bahter, "The Shining Hour" opens at the Cliftona Theatre Sunday for an engagement of three days.

Miss Crawford plays a role which parallels her own career as a

Broadway dancer and is reminiscent of her first starring pictures in dancing roles.

The story, directed by Frank Borzage, centers around a world-famous dancer who, tiring of the glare of the spotlight, marries a wealthy farmer. Complications ensue when her husband's sister resents the presence of the dancer in the family home. To make matters worse, her brother-in-law falls in love with her.

"The Shining Hour" marks the first time that Joan Crawford and Margaret Sullivan have played in the same picture. Both Young and Douglas have appeared with the star in several productions.

AT THE CIRCLE

"Torchy Gets Her Man," newest adventure of that snappy, snoop girl reporter, playing at Glenda Farrell, opened yesterday at the Circle Theatre, bringing plenty of laughs and thrills to the audiences who welcomed back their old friend Torchy.

This time Torchy Blane, the young feminine journalist, has an opportunity to get an exclusive story and to aid her likeable but slightly slow-on-the-trigger detective boy friend, Lieutenant Steve McBride, in the capture of the country's most capable counterfeit-

Ashville Community Club Plans Holiday Activities

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

As Christmas time approaches, the Community Club which had become "ailing and near unto its demise," is showing signs of a complete recovery—getting better day by day. A meeting was held at Atty. Margulis' office to work out some plan by which Christmas might be fittingly celebrated.

Last year at near Christmas time, the Community Club gave $50 to the ladies of the three churches to prepare and distribute baskets of food or such articles as they cared to prepare and which was to be distributed among the most needy families. The same kind of distributions is to be made this Christmas.

Too, it was decided to repeat with a Christmas tree erected in the same location as that of last year, at the intersection of Main and Long streets. The tree has already been purchased and will be in place within a short time.

And more than these Christmas plans, it was decided to make an effort to get the Community Club to functioning again as it once did, and to this end it was planned to hold a meeting at the dairy dining room on Wednesday evening, January 4. At this meeting it is hoped to make a start toward perfecting an organization with some degree of permanency. Sixty-four Ashville Citizens composed the Community Club in 1920 and of this number nineteen are deceased.

The different church here and in the nearby districts, are busy preparing for the coming Christmas exercises. . . . The sick people are in most part reported im-

COUNTIES SHOW BIG INCREASE IN A. A. WORK

Greatly increased participation in the agriculture conservation program of the federal Soil Conservation Commission was indicated today when allotment figures for 21 counties for 1938 were released here by C. W. Van Skoik, state administrator.

Pickaway county showed one of the largest increases over the 1937 figure of approximately $93,000. Within the next week or two checks totaling $200,000 will be farmers for cooperating in the present to 1,058 Pickaway county gram.

Medina county will receive $98,000 in total benefits paid as compared with $59,000 for 1937.

All checks will be sent out by February, 1939, officials said. Estimates on payment for 15 more counties will be prepared within the next ten days and the other 52 counties will have estimates before January 1, it was said.

Applications for benefits to the farmers will be sent out within a few days for signature, and within three days after they are returned to Columbus checks will be mailed from Cleveland.

Approximate total sum to be distributed in the 21 counties announced today is $2,000,000.

OPEN LETTERS

TO CHARLES RADCLIFF

SHERIFF: Your reelection as treasurer of the Buckeye State Sheriff's association is a tribute to yourself and to your county. It is quite an honor when an organization as big as the Buckeye State Sheriff's looks to Pickaway county for an official to handle the pursestrings. When it is considered that there are 88 counties in Ohio and that each has a sheriff, Pickaway county rates pretty well to be able to have the treasurer of the organization in its own district. Your work as an efficient officer of the law has gained you a splendid reputation even outside your own community.

TO NED DRESBACH

LUTHER LEAGUER: When an organization as strong as the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran church chooses the same president for the fourth consecutive year, that official must have been efficient during his other years of service. That is the honor bestowed on you this week by your fellow members, and it must be a justly deserved one. The Luther League has done much excellent work within the church and you have been a busy person in directing the activities of the organization. Your league takes its place beside the men's Brotherhood and other units of the church in making the Lutheran church the power that it is for the good of Circleville and Pickaway county.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Indications are that President Roosevelt will have to put at least a giant firecracker under Commerce Secretary Daniel C. Roper in order to get the latter out of his cabinet, thus creating a vacancy for WPA Chief Harry P. Hopkins to be boosted into. Roper is not a bit like Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who is quitting voluntarily-plus because he can make more money practicing law privately and needs to do so. Daniel C.'s salary is entirely satisfactory to him and his job is altogether to his liking. True, there have been rumors that the administration thinks of "promoting" him into the ambassadorship to Russia, but it's more than suspected that these reports are of White House origin and are intended as hints to the secretary in question. Roper, however, shows no signs of acting on them. Moscow probably isn't a post he hankers for. If anyone less adapted than himself to shine in Communist society could be suggested, it's hard to think of him. Daniel has the diplomatic quality of friendliness and affability, besides the gift of making a large number of remarks without saying anything. He can wear a dress suit to perfection. There are socially classy embassies and legations which he would fit into excellently. Now no such embassy offers a vacancy at present, and it would be undignified for a cabinet members to be fobbed off into a mere petty legation.

HE WOULDN'T LIKE IT

As for Moscow, in addition to being genuinely important, they say that folks there attend swell functions in nothing much more stylish than overalls. Roper wouldn't do in such surroundings and he knows it. The administration doubtless knows it also, but doesn't care, being so anxious to get rid of Daniel. The nub of it is that Dan knows it too, and he does care.

Nevertheless, How provide adequately for Harry Hopkins? Harry isn't professionally equipped for the attorney generalship. Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson will get that. Equally, Harry is unsuitable for the supreme court vacancy. He isn't a lawyer; he's a welfare worker.

A little peewee appointment wouldn't do for him. He must have something of cabinet proportions.

He's mentioned for the war portfolio, but there's no certainty that Secretary Harry H. Woodring is retiring. If he does retire, Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson is his natural successor. Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson is a very sick man, may drop out at any minute, but Assistant Secretary Charles Edison will be hard to overlook to follow him. There are plenty of demands for Secrecars that belonged to others, the sheriff's office finding that they had been stolen. Any person who might have a clue to identity of persons responsible for the tragedy would be doing the community and his fellowman a real service by disclosing that information to Sheriff Charles Radcliff or his deputies. The county's citizens would like very much to see the responsible persons brought before the bar of justice.

TO SPORTSMEN

FRIENDS: One of the best hunting seasons in Pickaway county in many years will soon come to a close. Now is the time for sportsmen to start plans to assure a good supply of game for the next season. Sportsmen should cooperate with farmers in establishing feeding stations to take care of game when the ground is covered with snow or ice. Severe Winter weather takes a heavy toll of wildlife. The results of Winter feeding are clearly shown on the propagation areas established in the county. A conservation official estimates at least 300 rabbits will be taken from the areas after the first of the year for distribution throughout the county. Pickaway county should have more sportsmen cooperating with farmers in providing food and cover and protection from natural enemies for wildlife. The recent report of a case of rabbit fever in Circleville should be a warning to hunters to use every precaution to prevent infection. Medical authorities warn hunters not to pick up sickly rabbits and use rubber gloves when dressing rabbits.

TO PARENTS

FOLK: Have your youngsters checked over their toy supplies and taken old or discarded toys to the fire department? Now is the time when firemen want and need toys for their campaign to make Christmas a happy occasion for every poor child in the city. It is up to parents to help them prepare a bundle of toys for the department. It teaches children the joy of giving to a less fortunate youngster. The Circle Theatre will stage a benefit show at 9:30 a. m. Saturday for the toy campaign. Admission to the theatre is one toy per child. If the crowd is too large for one show there will be a second one. Another matinee will be held on the following Saturday.

CIRCUITEER.

TO RESIDENTS

CITIZENS: Make outside decorations at your home a part of the family's Christmas program. Failure to have a home decorating contest with prizes this year should not lessen interest. Lack of interest in contests in former years resulted in the contest being eliminated from the city's Christmas program this season. Attractively decorated homes and yards not only increase the family's enjoyment of the season, but they add to the beauty of the city for the appreciation of residents, visitors and motorists.

DIET AND HEALTH

Nervousness Source of Great Suffering

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

NERVOUS people suffer intensely and are liable to become very much discouraged. They do not often find a physician who satisfies them. It is unfortunate that they cannot find one like the great French physician, DuBois, who described his way of going about the treatment of a man who had been extremely nervous for years: "All right, then," said the doctor to him, "you may stay with me and Dr. Clendinging will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column."

you will be cured. The directions that you are to follow are these:

"1. You are to lie in bed for six weeks. All such sicknesses as yours are more or less related to an actual exhaustion, and from this fact come indications that, at least for a certain time, your output of effort be reduced to the minimum. Besides, your loss of weight makes this complete rest very desirable.

Dyspepsia, Too

"2. Since you have suffered from dyspepsia, and this dyspepsia, as I shall at the proper time explain to you, is more mental than physical, during six days you will get a diet exclusively of milk and you need not tell me you can't tolerate milk; milk is always well tolerated.

"3. After the seventh day you are to be massaged. This isn't an absolutely necessary measure, but it will improve the circulation in muscles and the skin, which grow sluggish in the absence of exercise.

"You are an intelligent man and I will begin to talk to you and try to explain to you the reason of the symptoms which apparently are so puzzling to you. Six obstacles stand in your way, so to speak. You can't stand, you can't go, you can't read; furthermore, you can't eat like other people; your bowels do not move regularly; and, finally, you are unable to get fat. Now all those obstacles can be brushed aside or, to put it better, they have no real existence; they are only in your head."

Three Already Gone

This treatment was followed and at the end of the third week the patient said:

"Doctor, three of the obstacles have already fallen, or, to put it better, they have no longer reality when I find myself confronting them. In the first place, to my great astonishment, I have been able to take milk; I can eat everything, and none of the foods that I formerly regarded as indigestible has hurt me in the least. Under this treatment my bowel movements have become so regular they take place every morning at a definite hour. Lastly, I have gained four pounds every week. The other difficulties remain."

"I understand," answered the doctor. "They are in fact undoubtedly your most serious symptoms; but think of this, you have no organic disease, you are only nervous. All your symptoms belong in the same pot. Since you have gotten rid of three of them, you can get rid of the three others. Bear in mind the symptoms you have been cured of. During the remainder of your rest cure nail the thought of all that down tight in your brain. Don't make any effort to stand up, to walk, or to read; a failure might discourage you."

At the end of six weeks these other three obstacles had disappeared and within six months the man is described as completely cured.

CHAPTER 42

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB in Houston is a very large place. When it is full of milling, laughing, dancing couples, it is difficult to find anyone for whom you are looking, unless you are lucky.

Peaches Pomeroy had thought she could go right to the elevator entrance and wait for her bell hop, the boy whom she had sent for a box of aspirin. She had not waited by the checking room counter, as promised, for a definite reason; she did not want to be seen there. Anybody might drift by and see her, and so put two and two together—later.

Her plan was to wait for the boy, take the aspirin and thank him, and watch then for the opportune time to screech that her diamond bracelet had been stolen. She thought it best to wait until later in the evening, toward the end of the dance. But—while she waited at the elevator, she saw her bell hop run up the stairs and dart by without seeing her.

She tried to call to him, to follow, but could not see him again. He had disappeared in the throng. Two other costumed servants, spotted at a distance, turned out not to be here. She went back and peered down the hall toward the checkroom, but her boy was not there.

After a few minutes of searching she gave up. It didn't matter anyway. And besides, someone came to claim a dance with her. One of her old crowd. She glanced around looking for Thornton Holgate, but he was not in sight. Well, it was best that she be seen on the floor constantly now. It was best for her plan. She would dance and laugh and be as gay as possible—until the right moment to sound her plotted alarm. She saw no more of the bell hop.

Dr. Thornton Holgate had danced only one dance with his date. Early in the festivities, Peaches had disappeared, and he hadn't been able to find her. He danced once or twice with other girls. But then, he had a very definite course of action mapped out for this evening, and being a man of his word he meant to carry it through. He had given his word to himself.

Therefore, about 10:30 o'clock, he slipped downstairs alone and made his way to a drug store.

"I wish to consider some—ah—fice," he told the clerk.

"How's that?" The clerk hadn't understood.

"Do—do you have—dice? For sale? You know—dice?"

"Oh! Sure, sure! Let's see—here's some for 10 cents. And these much better ones, genuine ivory, perfect balance, for 49 cents. And these—"

He had a little tray of them and Thornton selected some white ones. It never occurred to him that he didn't know how to handle them. He didn't know the game. Never in all his life had Thornton Holgate shot craps. But he didn't think of that detail now. He had a more difficult mission.

Now, Thornton Holgate had maintained an academic interest in the American liquor situation. He had studied prohibition as one studies naval armaments, or conservation of natural resources, or socialized medicine. He knew that liquor was a problem. He knew the ill effects of drunkenness. He could quote statistics about alcohol, and its effects on the human body and brain. In short, he was quite familiar with liquor—but he had never drunk any, certainly never purchased any, ever.

Moreover, he despised the thought of drunkenness, as a personal consideration. He held drunks in utter contempt. Or sometimes pity. Liquor was repulsive in every sense, to him.

Nevertheless, Dr. Thornton Holgate was thoroughly determined to get some first-hand information about liquor tonight. He had worked himself up to this determination over a period of weeks. He had debated it pro and con with himself. He had decided that he should not be a prude, that conceivably Peaches Pomeroy and her drinking crowd were right, that he must at least learn their side of the question by actual experience.

He had observed before that Peaches liked to drink—nay, to get drunk—at public dances. So he would drink at this one with her, at the risk of reputation, even if it killed him! He also had observed at an earlier dance that she liked to play dice, and that was why he bought the little cubes of ivory. If he was going in for wildness this night, he was determined to do a good job of it.

He had no trouble finding a saloon. It wasn't called a saloon, but it was exactly that. He saw the bottled array on the wall behind the counter.

"I—ah—want a quart of the best," He tried to be nonchalant.

"Best what?" The bartender eyed him.

"I beg pardon?"

"Best what? Gin? Whiskey? Wine? What?"

"Oh! Oh, dear me!" Thornton was pink with embarrassment.

Which was a mistake, because the barkeep promptly, if silently, raised his prices 50 per cent, having recognized a sucker.

When he finally got his quart of whiskey and walked out with it, Thornton had a sense of uneasiness. He glanced guiltily at everyone on the sidewalk. He felt like a burglar must feel just after cracking a safe. But he stuck out his chin and went on, up the University club elevator and into the men's lounge. Some oddment of knowledge told him that men did their initial drinking in the lounge.

He would go there and proceed to start his evening of wildness, joining Peaches and others of the "gang" later. However, it hadn't been easy to start. It had taken more will power than he had anticipated. He had knelt in the private washroom, smelled his open whiskey bottle, and almost had been nauseated! He had begun shaking and throwing his new dice, practicing the mannerisms he had chanced to see in times past. Then all at once his door had popped open, and there was one of his students in bell boy uniform.

"Why—Dr. Holgate!" Worthington Gurley had stammered in utter amazement. It was as if the freshman had pointed an accusing finger of judgment at him. He, Thornton Holgate, was caught! He who had prided himself on moral stamina, caught by a nice lad at gambling and drinking (he hadn't actually drunk any of the whiskey, but the evidence was there.) The freshman stared, incredulous, before he could speak again. Things had been moving fast for young Gurley, but he tried bravely to ignore what he saw.

"Come with me," the freshman ordered then. "Hurry! You must come at once!" "No! No, no, Gurley. I—I didn't mean—I'm sorry. You see—I—"

Dr. Holgate had to swallow. Profound shame had suffused him. Shame and anger. "She's out her bracelet in her coat. In the lining—gnawed a hole—down in the lining—I saw her—such a mean look in her eyes—hurry, can't you—valuable bracelet—come on—come on, Dr. Holgate!"

Of course the professor couldn't understand such babbling. Excited now, Worthington spoke incoherently. And Thornton felt only his own deep sense of guilt. He felt that he had been caught at something terrible, and that his sin was about to be exposed. His sin and shame.

"Oh, my goodness—damn!" Dr. Holgate was standing. "Let me explain, Mr. Gurley. You must not be too hasty in judging—"

"HURRY, Dr. Holgate!" The boy wasn't listening, he was talking, and moving around excitedly.

As a matter of fact, he was also trying tactfully if excitedly to ignore what he saw on the floor—the whiskey and dice—who had idealized Dr. Holgate as a gentleman since the adventurous episode at Galveston a few weeks ago. People everywhere then had declared that Thornton Holgate was clean and fine, a man of high character. To be found like this—Worthington tried to ignore what he saw.

"I must call the police," he declared then, starting to leave.

Call the police! Dr. Holgate was terrified for an instant. Surely his crime didn't warrant that! He must stop the freshman, and explain somehow. It would never do for him, Thornton Holgate, to have a police record. What would his mother say? And his colleagues? Not to mention his own self-respect and pride.

It did not occur to Thornton in his bewilderment that he had violated no law whatever. Indeed, that he had done absolutely nothing wrong. The mere fact of playing alone with two dice, and of buying and opening a bottle of whiskey, can hardly be called disgraceful. But then, one's intentions—

"My Lord!" he breathed, wishing he had never heard of Peaches Pomeroy. It was for her that he had done these things.

He suddenly hated her. Suddenly knew that he didn't want to marry her, didn't love her, never had loved her, wished he had never seen or heard of her. These thoughts burned through his mind in the moment that he and the young freshman stared at each other, misunderstanding each other's moods.

"I guess I've GOT to get the police," Worthington declared, turning to rush away. The young fellow was doubly hurt and scared now.

"Wait!" commanded Dr. Holgate, running to halt him. "Wait, I tell you. I must make all of this clear!"

Hints on Etiquette
Salads generally are eaten with the fork alone. The fork is used to fold the lettuce into convenient size, or the leaf is cut with the edge of the fork. The dinner knife is not supposed to be used for this purpose and sometimes special salad knives are provided. However, it is not now considered incorrect to cut the head of lettuce with the ordinary knife if the fork is insufficient to do the job.

Much native intelligence and an active imagination are qualities inherent in the person born on this date. He is quick with his

TO CHARLES RADCLIFF
SHERIFF: Your reelection as treasurer of the Buckeye State Sheriff's association is a tribute to yourself and to your county. It is quite an honor when an organization as big as the Buckeye State Sheriff's looks to Pickaway county for an official to handle the pursestrings. When it is considered that there are 88 counties in Ohio and that each has a sheriff, Pickaway county rates pretty well to be able to have the treasurer of the organization in its own district. Your work as an efficient officer of the law has gained you a splendid reputation even outside your own community.

CIRCUITEER.

TO NED DRESBACH
LUTHER LEAGUER: When an organization as strong as the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran church chooses the same president for the fourth consecutive year, that official must have been efficient during his other years of service. That is the honor bestowed on you this week by your fellow members, and it must be a justly deserved one. The Luther League has done much excellent work within the church and you have been a busy person in directing the activities of the organization. Your league takes its place beside the men's Brotherhood and other units of the church in making the Lutheran church the power that it is for the good of Circleville and Pickaway county.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CIVIC UNITS
ORGANIZATIONS: Circleville schools received gifts of scales this week that are certain to prove of much assistance to public health officials in their scheduled work. The district nurse and others will now be able to check the weights of the various pupils with more efficiency. Circleville's civic organizations have been very good to our schools and to our various charitable units. They deserve praise from all.

World At A Glance

Indications are that President Roosevelt will have to put at least a giant firecracker under Commerce Secretary Daniel C. Roper in order to get the latter out of his cabinet, thus creating a vacancy for WPA Chief Harry P. Hopkins to be boosted into. Roper is not a bit like Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who is quitting voluntarily because he can make more money practicing law privately and needs to do so. Daniel C.'s salary is entirely satisfactory to him and his job is altogether to his liking. True, there have been rumors that the administration thinks of "promoting" him into the ambassadorship to Russia, but it's more than suspected that these reports are of White House origin and are intended as hints to the secretary in question. Roper, however, shows no signs of acting on them. Moscow probably isn't a post he hankers for. If anyone less adapted than himself to shine in Communist society could be suggested, it's hard to think of him. Daniel has the diplomatic quality of friendliness and affability, besides the gift of making a large number of remarks without saying anything. He can wear a dress suit to perfection. There are socially classy embassies and legations which he would fit into excellently. Now no such embassy offers a vacancy at present, and it would be undignified cars that belonged to others, the sheriff's office finding that they had been stolen. Any person who might have a clue to identity of persons responsible for the tragedy would be doing the community and his fellowman a real service by disclosing that information to Sheriff Charles Radcliff or his deputies. The county's citizens would like very much to see the responsible persons brought before the bar of justice.

CIRCUITEER.

TO SPORTSMEN
FRIENDS: One of the best hunting seasons in Pickaway county in many years will soon come to a close. Now is the time for sportsmen to start plans to assure a good supply of game for the next season. Sportsmen should cooperate with farmers in establishing feeding stations to take care of game when the ground is covered with snow or ice. Severe winter weather takes a heavy toll of wildlife. The results of winter feeding are clearly shown on the propagation areas established in the county. A conservation official estimates at least 300 rabbits will be taken from the areas after the first of the year for distribution throughout the county. Pickaway county should have more sportsmen cooperating with farmers in providing food and cover and protection from natural enemies for wildlife. The recent report of a case of rabbit fever in Circleville should be a warning to hunters to use every precaution to prevent infection. Medical authorities warn hunters not to pick up sickly rabbits and use rubber gloves when dressing rabbits.

CIRCUITEER.

TO DORIS LEIST
ORATOR: Congratulations on your victory in the county Prince of Peace declamation held recently. Pickaway countians, and especially those of Pickaway township, wish you success in the district contest.

CIRCUITEER.

TO PARENTS
FOLK: Have your youngsters checked over their toy supplies and taken old or discarded toys to the fire department? Now is the time when firemen want and need toys for their campaign to make Christmas a happy occasion for every poor child in the city. It is up to parents to help them prepare a bundle of toys for the department. It teaches children the joy of giving to a less fortunate youngster. The Circle Theatre will stage a benefit show at 9:30 a. m. Saturday for the toy campaign. Admission to the theatre is one toy per child. If the crowd is too large for one show there will be a second one. Another matinee will be held on the following Saturday.

CIRCUITEER.

TO RESIDENTS
CITIZENS: Make outside decorations at your home a part of the family's Christmas program. Failure to have a home decorating contest with prizes this year should not lessen interest. Lack of interest in contests in former years resulted in the contest being eliminated from the city's Christmas program this season. Attractively decorated homes and yards not only increase the family's enjoyment of the season, but they add to the beauty of the city for the appreciation of residents, visitors and motorists.

tary of Labor Frances Perkins' resignation, but she doesn't notice them. Even if she did, there would be a howl for ex-Assistant Edward F. McGraw to replace her. Secretary of State Hull is as solid as Gibraltar. Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes and Agriculture Henry A. Wallace seem substantially fixed, despite lots of criticisms. Furthermore, Hopkins has had no more training for the treasury, war or navy departments than you, dear reader, or I, ever had. I myself came from Iowa, as Harry did, but I'm no agriculture expert; neither is he. He may have a little dope on labor or interior department problems; still, those avenues likewise appear to be barricaded against him. HARRY'S COMMERCIAL ACUMEN? To save my life I can't see that Harry Hopkins knows anything worth mentioning as to interstate and foreign commerce. Presumably Daniel C. Roper doesn't either. Roper just is a competent politician. Maybe Hopkins is more competent than Roper is. The administration evidently thinks so. So it wants that job, to operate from. Roper selfishly hangs onto it. He's a nuisance—to some very irritated persons.

DIET AND HEALTH

Nervousness Source of Great Suffering
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
NERVOUS people suffer intensely and are liable to become very much discouraged. They do not often find a physician who satisfies them. It is unfortunate that they cannot find one like the great French physician, DuBois, who described his way of going about the treatment of a man who had been extremely nervous for years:

"All right, then," said the doctor to him, "you may stay with me and Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column."

you will be cured. The directions that you are to follow are these: "1. You are to lie in bed for six weeks. All such sicknesses as yours are more or less related to an actual exhaustion, and from this fact come indications that, at least for a certain time, your output of effort be reduced to the minimum. Besides, your loss of weight makes this complete rest very desirable."

Dyspepsia, Too
"2. Since you have suffered from dyspepsia, and this dyspepsia, as I shall at the proper time explain to you, is more mental than physical, during six days you will get a diet exclusively of milk and you need not tell me you can't tolerate milk; milk is always well tolerated."

"3. After the seventh day you are to be massaged. This isn't an absolutely necessary measure, but it will improve the circulation in muscles and the skin, which grow sluggish in the absence of exercise. "You are an intelligent man and I will begin to talk to you and try to explain to you the reason of the symptoms which apparently are so puzzling to you. Six obstacles stand in your way, so to speak. You can't stand, you can't go, you can't read; furthermore, you can't eat like other people; your bowels do not move

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB in Houston is a very large place. When it is full of milling, laughing, dancing couples, it is difficult to find anyone for whom you are looking, unless you are lucky.

Peaches Pomeroy had thought she could go right to the elevator entrance and wait for her bell hop, the boy whom she had sent for a box of aspirin. She had not waited by the checking room counter, as promised, for a definite reason; she did not want to be seen there. Anybody might drift by and see her, and so put two and two together—later.

Her plan was to wait for the boy, take the aspirin and thank him, and watch then for the opportune time to scream that her diamond bracelet had been stolen. She thought it best to wait until later in the evening, toward the end of the dance. But—while she waited at the elevator, she saw her bell hop run up the stairs and dart by without seeing her.

She tried to call to him, to follow, but could not see him again. He had disappeared in the throng. Two other costumed servants, spotted at a distance, turned out not to be hers. She went back and peered down the hall toward the checkroom, but her boy was not there.

After a few minutes of searching she gave up. It didn't matter anyway. And besides, someone came to claim a dance with her. One of her old crowd. She glanced around looking for Thornton Holgate, but he was not in sight. Well, it was best that she be seen on the floor constantly now. It was best for her plan. She would dance and laugh and be as gay as possible—until the right moment to sound her plotted alarm. She saw no more of the bell hop.

Dr. Thornton Holgate had danced only one dance with his date. Early in the festivities, Peaches had disappeared, and he hadn't been able to find her. He danced once or twice with other girls. But then, he had a very definite course of action mapped out for this evening, and being a man of his word he meant to carry it through. He had given his word to himself.

Therefore, about 10:30 o'clock, he slipped away alone and made his way to a drug store. "I wish to consider some—ah—dice," he told the clerk. "How's that?" The clerk hadn't understood. "Do—do you have—dice? For sale? You know—dice?"

"Oh! Sure, sure! Let's see—here's some for 10 cents. And these much better ones, genuine ivory, perfect balance, for 49 cents. And these—"

He had a little tray of them and Thornton selected some white ones. It never occurred to him that he didn't know how to handle them at all. Didn't know the game. Never in all his life had Thornton Holgate shot craps. But he didn't think of that detail now. He had a more difficult mission.

Now, Thornton Holgate had maintained an academic interest in the American liquor situation. He had studied prohibition as one studies naval armaments, or conservation of natural resources, or socialized medicine. He knew that liquor was a problem. He knew the ill effects of drunkenness. He could quote statistics about alcohol, and its effects on the human body and brain. In short, he was quite familiar with liquor—but he had never drunk any, certainly never purchased any, ever.

Moreover, he despised the thought of drunkenness, as a personal consideration. He held drinks in utter contempt. Or sometimes pity. Liquor was repulsive in every sense, to him.

Business Women Have Anniversary Gathering

Club Formed 15
Years Ago
in City

Poinsettias and hemlock formed the colorful decorations of the club room, Thursday, when the Business and Professional Women's club met for its 15th anniversary party. Tall yellow tapers in crystal holders and nutcrackers of yellow and green were used on the tables, a large birthday cake topped with 15 burning candles centering the speakers' table.

Miss Clara Southward, club president, greeted the members and guests and led the reading of the club collect. After group singing of club songs, the three course turkey dinner was served.

The committee for the evening included Miss Minnie Palm, chairman, Miss Helen Rowe, Mrs. Erma Stevenson, Miss Elizabeth Drum and Miss Hildah Burns.

The guests enjoyed a menu contest during the dinner hour.

For the program, Miss Charlotte McEwing, secretary, read an interesting paper on "Highlights of Club Activities of the last 15 Years," presenting an array of facts and figures in a humorous way, speaking of the many difficulties encountered in the work of the club.

Miss McEwing said that the club was organized Dec. 11, 1923, congratulations being received at the first meeting from all civic organizations of the city. The most important work of the club during these years has been the maintenance of the educational fund, which has already put one girl through high school and college and is now supporting one girl, while she is receiving college training. Miss McEwing told of the many ways the club used to secure money for this fund, the most outstanding being the presentation of three shows and two large card parties. She mentioned the name quilt sponsored by the club as having earned more than $100 for the organization.

Aside from the money considerations of the club, it has entertained at various times eight state presidents; has sponsored 14 banquets for the girl graduates of Circleville high school; has had seven public relations dinners and three large inter-city meetings. The Circleville club contributed to a storm relief fund for a club in Florida. One of the accomplishments of the club, which means much to the members, was the furnishing of the office of Berger hospital.

Many representatives have gone from this local society to state and national conventions.

After the club history, Miss Palm presented Mrs. Blanche Motesman, who presented two humorous readings, "The Club Luncheon" and "Husbands is Husbands".

Twenty-five club members gathered for the dinner. Among the guests were Miss Blanche Stair, new superintendent of Berger hospital, Mrs. William Burns, Miss Betty Nelson, Mrs. Motesman and Miss Nelle Anderson.

Friendship Circle
Mrs. Minnie Heise of E. Main street entertained the December session of the Friendship Circle, Thursday, 15 members gathering at her home for the cooperative luncheon served at noon. Holiday decorations made an attractive background for the pleasant affair.

During the informal social afternoon, the Christmas party with the exchange of gifts was held. Mrs. Charlotte Ruff of E. Mound street will entertain the January session of the club.

Club Social Session
One of Circleville's bridge clubs enjoyed its annual Christmas party and social session, Thursday, at the Sandwich Grill. Poinsettias and cedar decorated the table where eight club members were seated for the dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

The exchange of gifts and "white elephants" was held after the dinner was served.

Contract bridge was played during the evening, with prizes

Williamsport O. E. S. Installation
Mrs. LeRoy Hammack and Mr. Hammack were installed worthy matron and patron of Heber chapter No. 62, Order of the Eastern Star, Thursday, at the Masonic Lodge Hall, Williamsport.

Preceding the installation, a 6 o'clock dinner was served at the parish house under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. W. Hays. Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker was chairman of the dining room. The room was attractively decorated with Christmas greens, red candles being used on each table. Centering the table where the officers and visiting officers were seated were five candles, blue, yellow, white, green and red, star point colors. Garlands of cedar and holly were around the candles and attractive favors were at each place.

The chapter opened in ritualistic form with Mrs. Harry Smith, worthy matron, presiding. After the opening, she welcomed the distinguished guests, who were then escorted to the East. These included Miss Marie L. Hamilton, past grand matron; Mrs. C. E. Hill, grand representative of Indiana; Sister Mona Eldrick, deputy grand matron of the 23rd district; Mrs. George LeMay, district president. In closing Mrs. Smith and Mr. Smith, worthy patron, expressed their gratitude and appreciation to all officers and members for their support during the last year.

Thomas McKinley then presented Mr. Smith a gavel, a token of friendship, and requested that he use it in his work as worshipful master of Masonic Lodge. As the 1938 officers retired, Mr. and Mrs. Smith presented each a pink carnation.

The chapter room was beautifully decorated in orchid, yellow and white chrysanthemums and poinsettias, when the newly elected and appointed officers entered, led by Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Eldrick.

The installing officers were Mrs. Hamilton, grand installing officer; Mrs. Eldrick, grand installing marshal; Mrs. Hill, grand installing chaplain; Mrs. Clarence McAbee, grand installing secretary; Mrs. Dwight Rector, grand installing organist; Mrs. Charles Hosler, grand installing warden; George Bochard, grand installing sentinel.

After the ceremonies, Mrs. Hammack, worthy matron and Mr. Hammack, worthy patron, presented each installing officer a gift. Miss Hamilton presented Mrs. Smith a past matron's pin, a gift from Heber chapter. E. C. Rector presented a past patron's pin to Mr. Smith, also a gift from the chapter.

Mrs. Thomas McKinley presented Mrs. Smith a gift, a token of friendship for the year. The 1939 officers include in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hammack, Mrs. Thomas McKinley, associate matron; Mr. McKinley, associate patron; Mrs. Tammie Marcy, secretary; Mrs. H. W. Householder of Williamsport were guests at the dinner.

STARS SAY—

For Friday, December 9
AN INTERESTING and eventful day is forecast by the lunar transits. But it may be one that is not entirely free from anxiety, disappointments and other adverse circumstances. The latter situation seems to involve or be at the behest of elders or old attachments. The emphasis of the day is found in social, domestic or romantic affiliations, which have surprising or unexpected denouements. Change, travel and new contacts are involved, with benefits arising from unaccustomed sources.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very lively and eventful year, in which the accent seems to be on the social, domestic, sentimental or romantic interests rather than strict business.

However, in the latter there may be advantages in change, travel or fresh contacts. An elder is involved and not with notable benefit. Be prepared to cope with some delays, disappointments or obstacles.

A child born on this day may be talented in some peculiar line, being fond of strange matters, new faces and probably peculiar avocations.

Business Women Have Anniversary Gathering

Club Formed 15 Years Ago in City

Poinsettias and hemlock formed the colorful decorations of the club room, Thursday, when the Business and Professional Women's club met for its 15th anniversary party. Tall yellow tapers in crystal holders and nutcups of yellow and green were used on the tables, a large birthday cake topped with 15 burning candles centering the speakers' table.

Miss Clara Southward, club president, greeted the members and guests and led the reading of the club collect. After group singing of club songs, the three course turkey dinner was served.

The committee for the evening included Miss Minnie Palm, chairman, Miss Helen Rowe, Mrs. Erma Stevenson, Miss Elizabeth Drum and Miss Hilda Burns.

The guests enjoyed a menu contest during the dinner hour. For the program, Miss Charlotte McEwing, secretary, read an interesting paper on "Highlights of Club Activities of the last 15 Years," presenting an array of facts and figures in a humorous way, speaking of the many difficulties encountered in the work of the club.

Miss McEwing said that the club was organized Dec. 11, 1923, congratulations being received at the first meeting from all civic organizations of the city. The most important work of the club during these years has been the maintenance of the educational fund, which has already put one girl through high school and college and is now supporting one girl, while she is receiving college training. Miss McEwing told of the many ways the club used to secure money for this fund, the most outstanding being the presentation of three shows and two large card parties. She mentioned the name quilt sponsored by the club as having earned more than $100 for the organization.

Aside from the money considerations of the club, it has entertained at various times eight state presidents; has sponsored 14 banquets for the girl graduates of Circleville high school; has had seven public relations dinners and three large inter-city meetings. The Circleville club contributed to a storm relief fund for a club in Florida. One of the accomplishments of the club, which means much to the members, was the furnishing of the office of Berger hospital.

Many representatives have gone from this local society to state and national conventions.

After the club history, Miss Palm presented Mrs. Blanche Mutschman, who presented two humorous readings, "The Club Luncheon" and "Husbands are Husbands".

Twenty-five club members gathered for the dinner. Among the guests were Miss Blanche Stair, new superintendent of Berger hospital, Mrs. William Burns, Miss Betty Nelson, Mrs. Mutschman and Miss Nelle Anderson.

Friendship Circle

Mrs. Minnie Heise of E. Main street entertained the December session of the Friendship Circle, Thursday, 15 members gathering at her home for the cooperative luncheon served at noon. Holiday decorations made an attractive background for the pleasant affair.

During the informal social afternoon, the Christmas party with the exchange of gifts was held. Mrs. Charlotte Ruff of E. Mound street will entertain the January session of the club.

Club Social Session

One of Circleville's bridge clubs enjoyed its annual Christmas party and social session, Thursday, at the Sandwich Grill. Poinsettias and cedar decorated the table where eight club members were seated for the dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

The exchange of gifts and "white elephants" was held after the dinner was served.

Contract bridge was played during the evening, with prizes

TOO MUCH WEIGHT HURTS PRICE OF MARKET HOGS

Harry J. Briggs, service manager of the Farm Bureau, warns Pickaway county farmers to not put too much weight on their market hogs.

"Heavy hogs are hard to sell at a good price," Mr. Briggs said. "So many farmers are feeding their hogs to 250 to 350 pounds when the best weight would be from 180 to 250 pounds."

Mr. Briggs said he believed the heavy hogs were resulting from cheap corn and the scarcity of stock hogs.

TWO BOY SCOUTS AIDES SELECTED AT CONFERENCE

Kenneth Lea And David Goldschmidt To Help Troops In City

KANTZ TALKS DUTIES

Many Leaders Take Part In Discussion Of Youth Needs

William D. Radcliff, district Boy Scout commissioner, appointed two neighborhood commissioners to serve Circleville troops at the December roundtable for Pickaway district troop leaders held Thursday night in Mr. Radcliff's office. Additional appointments will be made in the near future.

Troops 107 and 158 were assigned to Kenneth Lea, Troops 43, 205 and Cub Pack 14 were assigned to David Goldschmidt.

Duties of the commissioner staff were outlined by Howard Kautz, field Scout executive. Other matters pertaining to the operation of Scout troops were discussed.

Local Scouters present at the meeting included James I. Smith, Jr., district chairman; Dr. F. C. Schaeffer, Scoutmaster of Troop 205 of the Presbyterian church; The Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, chairman of the committee of Troop 205; Roger Lozier, Scoutmaster of Troop 43, Williamsport; Ralph Heistand, Scoutmaster of Troop 158 of the American Legion; Donald Beatty, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 107 of the Methodist church and Messrs. Radcliff, Goldschmidt and Lea.

The group decided to hold monthly meetings to discuss topics of a training nature relating to scouting. The new neighborhood commissioners will visit the units assigned to them once each month. They will assist the troop leaders in improving and extending Scout work.

ENGINEERS OF SOUTHERN OHIO TO GATHER FRIDAY

Circleville members of the Southern Ohio Society of Professional Engineers will go to Chillicothe, Friday evening, for a dinner and entertainment in the Maple Grove hotel.

A floor show will be given by entertainers from radio station WLW. Arrangements are being made to obtain Prof. C. E. Sherman of Ohio State university, as the speaker. A. V. Courtwright, Mead corporation engineer, formerly of Circleville, is program chairman. Engineers of Adams, Brown, Highland, Pike, Clermont, Clinton, Fayette and Madison counties will attend.

TOO MUCH WEIGHT HURTS PRICE OF MARKET HOGS

Harry J. Briggs, service manager of the Farm Bureau, warns Pickaway county farmers to not put too much weight on their market hogs.

"Heavy hogs are hard to sell at a good price," Mr. Briggs said. "So many farmers are feeding their hogs to 250 to 350 pounds when the best weight would be from 180 to 250 pounds."

Mr. Briggs said he believed the heavy hogs were resulting from cheap corn and the scarcity of stock hogs.

JONES RANKS FOURTH

Hildeburn Jones, Circleville, with a civil service grade of 104.95 ranked fourth Friday on a list of certified applicants for appointment as a field supervisor for the Unemployment Compensation Commission. Ten are to be appointed from a certified list of 16.

Hitler Was Their Best Man

ABOVE are recent pictures of Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the black-shirted British Fascists, and his secret wife, the former Diana Freeman-Mitford, daughter of Lord Redesdale, pro-Nazi British peer. Hitler was best man at the wedding last December. It was performed at the Fuehrerhaus in Munich, where later the conferences partitioning Czechoslovakia were held. Lady Mosley's sister, Unity, is Hitler's "ideal" of Aryan womanhood.

HOLY ROSARY TOSSERS INVADE ATHLETIC CLUB GYMNASIUM TONIGHT

HUGHES TO WIN STARTING POST FOR RED, BLACK

Taller Youth To Replace Smith; Other Four Jobs To Be Same

RESERVES SCHEDULED

Muhlenberg And Pickaway Contest To Feature County Events

Another three game card is on the high school basketball schedules Friday evening with the varsity and reserves taking on Columbus Holy Rosary and juniors and seniors, who are not on the squad, tangling in an intramural contest. The first scrap begins at 6:45 o'clock. It is the intramural joust.

Coach Roy Black indicated Friday that the starting lineup would undergo one change with Red Hughes replacing Harold Smith at a guard post. Hughes' size gives him an advantage in taking the ball of the backboard. Other starters will be Davis and Heffner at the forwards, Walters at center and Bumgarner at guard. Staley, Bowsher and Smith will probably be held out of the reserve game so they will be fresh for action in the varsity joust.

The reserves starting team will be chosen from Stelbelton, Jackson, Geib, Ted Moon, Callihan, Kibler, Ayers, Dewey and Gusman.

Rosary, led by Captain Tommy Ucker, is expected to give the Tigers a battle from start to finish. The Red and Black team looked none too good against Amanda, but much practice during the last week may snap the team out of its lethargy that featured the first half of the Fairfield fray.

County games are expected to provide some fireworks tonight with the Muhlenberg-Pickaway game at the latter school to hold most of the attention. Muhlenberg, stronger than it has been in several years, is on top the loop heap with Ashville and needs a victory tonight to remain in the lead.

The Williamsport - Washington game should be interesting and so should Scioto's journey to Atlanta to meet the Perry teams. Other contests include Ashville at Walnut, Saltcreek at New Holland and Monroe at Darby.

CUBS STILL SEEK PITCHER, STRONG FIRST BASE MAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Officials of the Chicago Cubs said today that acquisition of an outstanding pitcher and a hitting first baseman would about complete their major trades for next season.

They announced last night the purchase of Ray Harrell, 26 year old right-handed pitcher, from the St. Louis Cardinals for cash. The purchase price was not revealed. Harrell won three and lost four for the Cardinals last season.

Pro Grid Title Game Provides Ducat Crisis

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Tim Mara protested today that the raid by federal agents on the ticket office of his New York professional football Giants had been a "frame-up."

The raiders charged that they had paid $2 above the face value for several tickets to next Sunday's world's championship game between the Giants and the Green Bay Packers, and that the excessive charge constituted box office scalping.

They arrested Mara's 29 year old niece, Mrs. Helen Mara, who was in charge of the office, and Charles Chaplin, 21, a clerk, on charges of evading federal taxes by failure to stamp the amount received on the back of the tickets.

The tickets were marked at $4.40, and according to the federal agents, even the speculators were having to pay $6.80 for them. The ascendency of professional football had long ago assured a sell-out of the 50,000 to 60,000 seats at the Polo grounds for the championship game and tickets have been at a premium from the first.

Not Truth Says Tim

Mara, who promoted prize fights in the days of Tex Rickard and has promoted various sports events since then, said there wasn't any truth in the complaints. His niece was released in his custody and he bailed out Chaplin for $250 pending action by a grand jury.

The Giants, preparing for the big game, were giving serious consideration to a lesson learned by the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions during the regular campaign just ended.

"Beware of the Packers the second time out," was the warning sounded by the Bears and Lions. Each licked the Packers once only to have a rude awakening in return games.

In their first meeting the Bears trimmed the Packers, 2-0, but were licked, 24-22, in their second encounter. The Lions knocked off the Packers, 17-7, and then were routed, 28-7, in their return battle.

The Giants, with a 15-3 victory over the Packers, were practicing overtime at the Polo grounds today with the Lions and Bears lesson uppermost in their minds.

Curley Lambeau, Green Bay coach who learned his football at Notre Dame under Rockne, doesn't want his boys to feel that they have such a return game jinx over the Giants. He has told the Packers that they were awful in that first game with the Giants. The statistics show that Green Bay made 21 first downs to the Giants' six and had the game under con-

JACK DEMPSEY WINS E. J. NEIL MEMORIAL HONOR

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, today was the proud possessor of the first annual Edward J. Neil Memorial award, presented each year by the New York Boxing Writers' association to the active or retired fighter who has done most for the betterment of boxing.

Dempsey won the award by 20 votes to 11 over Henry Armstrong, lightweight and welterweight champion. Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis received one ballot. The award is a memorial to the late Edward J. Neil, well-known Associated Press boxing writer and war correspondent who died from shell wounds in Spain on Jan. 2. The plaque will be formally presented at the association's annual dinner.

Dempsey was selected because he, as the "best known and most widely admired person" connected with the game, campaigned constantly in various sections during 1938 for the improvement of boxing.

Before the vote was taken, Dempsey and his former arch rival, Gene Tunney, joined in criticizing Manager Ray Carlen for trying to boost Lou Nova, young Alameda, Cal., heavyweight, up the ladder too fast. Nova meets Tommy Farr of Wales in Madison Square Garden on Dec. 16.

MINOR LEAGUES CHANGE RULING ON YOUNG STARS

Majors May Take Aces From Sandlots Or Semi-Pro Ranks

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Baseball will never have another "Feller incident." In the records of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues today was a constitutional amendment permitting major league clubs to hire directly all the sandlot and semi-professional players their budgets will permit.

Minor league executives, in annual meeting here, believed the amendment would eradicate the "subterfuge" in the so-called "Baltimore agreement" between major and minor leagues adopted in Montreal two years ago. The action still must be approved by the major leagues, but they are almost certain to adopt it at their annual meetings in New York next week.

The amendment, adopted yesterday, did not destroy the "Baltimore agreement," but it did alter it to wipe out what Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis termed "subterfuge."

Feller Recalled
Under the old system, as provided in the "Baltimore agreement," major league clubs could recommend players to minor league clubs with the understanding that when the sandlotter signed a contract with the minor league club, he would work for the major league outfit that spotted him. The most noted case of this type was the signing of Pitcher Bob Feller by New Orleans while he still was a student at Van Meter, Ia., high school. He was "recommended" to New Orleans by the Cleveland Indians and reported directly to the Indians.

The new amendment provides majors may deal directly with sandlotter and semi-pro players. It was a substitute for one that would have entirely eliminated the major-minor agreement.

Outside the convention rooms, there still was plenty of activity in the "ivory" market, although Chief Trader Bill Terry, New York Giants manager, had left. Giant President Horace Stoneham and Louis Comiskey, Chicago White Sox president, flew to New York and some baseball men believed that a Sox-Giant trade was imminent.

Frankie Frisch, former St. Louis Cardinal manager, continued to hold out for a big league job. He conferred with President Seymour Weiss of the New Orleans Pelicans and presumably was offered the position of manager here.

"I think I'm going to get a big league job," Frisch said. He has also talked with Manager Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds, Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates and President Bob Quinn of the Boston Bees.

One major league deal sent Outfielder Allen (Dusty) Cooke and some cash from the Cincinnati Reds to the St. Louis Cardinals for Outfielder Stanley (Frenchy) Bordagaray.

The Boston Red Sox traded Pitcher Dick Mikkiff to the Syracuse Chiefs in the International league.

The Chicago Cubs bought pitcher Ray Harrell from the St. Louis Cardinals. George W. (Mule) Haas, former Philadelphia and Chicago star in the American league, was signed as manager of Oklahoma City in the Texas league.

Minor league developments were:

The New York Giants took over the franchise of the Salisbury club in the North Carolina State league; the Jersey City Giants signed Josh Billings, former St. Louis Browns catcher, to succeed Coach Alex Gaston; Chattanooga

Davey O'Brien Gets Trophy

SELECTED as the "outstanding college football player of 1938," Davey O'Brien, All-American backfield ace of the undefeated Texas Christian university team, receives the Heisman trophy, symbolic of the selection, in New York. Davey came all the way from Fort Worth, Tex., to be honored.

FOUR VETERANS IN LINEUP FOR BUCKEYE TEAM

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Four veterans and a sophomore who make no secret of Big Ten championship aspirations will start for Ohio State in the Bucks' first basketball game of the season against a veteran George Washington five from Washington D. C., Saturday night in the state fairgrounds Coliseum.

An injury to Tom Swan, seasoned center who transferred from the University of Akron, will insert either Gil Mickelson, Thief River Falls, Minn., or Charley Maag, Sandusky giant, both sophomores, into the lineup.

Captain Jim Hull and Dick Baker, both regulars from last year, will be at the forwards; Dick Boughner, another returning regular, and Jim Lynch, seasoned reserve, will start at the guards.

Fortified by this experienced cast, Coach Harold G. Olsen will inaugurate his 17th season at the Buckeye cage helm and it may be the season to give him and Ohio State a second undisputed conference title, first since 1925.

In addition to Mickelson and Maag, Olsen has Don Scott, a footballer like the Sandusky lad, and Jack Mees in the first year contingent pushing the veterans for regular positions.

Largest cloud on the Buck horizon at present is the serious specter of ineligibility. John Schick, of the Southern association bought First Baseman Alex Hooks and Pitcher Harry Smythe from Montreal and sold Outfielder Johnny Gill to Nashville and Pitcher Pat Malone, to Oakland, Cal.; Brooklyn gave Willie Duke, outfielder, to New Orleans in part payment for Catcher "Greek" George; and Portsmouth, Va., sold Infielder Edward Stankey to Syracuse.

TEXAS OBTAINS NEW WORLD'S OLDEST BOOK

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—A copy of "Doctrina Breve," oldest book printed in America, now rests in the University of Texas library.

The volume, which Librarian Donald Coney says is one of three in the United States, is a catechism printed in Mexico in 1543 and 1544 by Bishop Juan de Zumarraga, whose printing press was the first brought to the New World. Zumarraga had printed books in America three years earlier, but none of those are known to exist now.

The Spanish volume, bound in heavy Spanish leather decorated with gold tooling is in an excellent state of preservation, according to Dr. Carlos E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian at the University.

Muhlenberg And Pickaway Contest To Feature County Events

Another three game card is on the high school basketball schedules Friday evening with the varsity and reserves taking on Columbus Holy Rosary and juniors and seniors, who are not on the squad, tangle in an intramural contest. The first scrap begins at 6:45 o'clock. It is the intramural

Coach Roy Black indicated Friday that the starting lineup would undergo one change with Red Hughes replacing Harold Smith at a guard post. Hughes' size gives him an advantage in taking the ball of the backboard. Other starters will be Davis and Heffner at the forwards, Walters at center and Bumgarner at guard. Staley, Bowsher and Smith will probably be held out of the reserve game so they will be fresh for action in the varsity game.

The reserves starting team will be chosen from Stebelton, Jackson, Geib, Ted Moon, Callahan, Kibler, Ayers, Dewey and Gusman.

Rosary, led by Captain Tommy Ucker, is expected to give the Tigers a battle from start to finish. The Red and Black team looked none too good against Amanda, but much practice during the last week may snap the team out of its lethargy that featured the first half of the Fairfield fray.

OHIO WESLEYAN CAGERS STRONG IN MUSKIE WIN

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9.—(UP)—

The 1938-39 Ohio Wesleyan basketball team today jerked in the "welcome" mat displayed so frequently to enemy cagers by last season's Bishops.

The current edition made an impressive debut last night by trouncing a respected Muskingum foe, 51 to 34, in the opening court clash for both outfits. Jack Buterworth netted five field goals and three free throws to spark the Bishops to triumph after the Muskies held an early margin.

Bowling Green chalked up a second victory and trimmed Bluffton, 39 to 34. Findlay set down Defiance, 43 to 29; Ohio Northern turned back Tiffin Business, 41 to 33 while Ashland barely nosed out Hiram, 40 to 39.

Heidelberg had an easy time with the Ohio College of Chiropractic, 43 to 25, but Capital's promising squad bowed to an alumni aggregation, 48 to 45.

Forward Roy Cyle tallied 16 points in the Bowling Green victory.

Marietta's Pioneers may encounter trouble in their second tuncup tilt tonight against Fairmont, W. Va., Normal at Marietta. Xavier opens a tough schedule by entertaining Kentucky Wesleyan at Cincinnati while De Sales of Toledo plays at Wilmington to complete tonight's slate.

Twelve games are carded for Saturday night among state colleges. Ashland will invade Kenyon to open the Ohio conference competition.

AIRLINES TO END ISOLATION ROLE FOR AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA, Australia (UP)—

Announcement of experimental air flights next year between Australia and different parts of the world, promise to modify Australia's geographical position of "down under" to "up on top."

Experimental flights for the establishment of new aerial routes which have been communicated to the Federal government include that of the British route between New Zealand and Canada which will begin early next year.

These will constitute the first practical step of several new air routes to Australia. These will include:

A direct American line from the United States to Australia.

An Empire Pacific line with an American terminal at San Francisco instead of Vancouver.

A new Dutch route to Australia which will shorten the distance by taking an open water leg from Ceylon to Sumatra.

An alternative England-Australia route by way of Africa and the Indian ocean.

Selections Announced For Program To Be Staged At Ashville

Program for the Pickaway county Music festival to be held in the Ashville-Harrison high school auditorium next Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 8:15 p. m., was announced Friday.

There will be 176 school children in the chorus and 76 in the festival orchestra.

Orchestra selections have been divided into two groups, three selections opening the program and three closing the entertainment. Miss Bernelle Goodman, music instructor of the Muhlenberg township school, is conductor of the orchestra.

The first group of orchestra selections includes "A Frangosa," by Mario Costa; "Finlandia," by Jean Sibelius, and "Plantation Echoes," arranged by E. DeLamater. Miss Doris Leist, Pickaway township school, will be accompanist for the first three selections. Miss Helen McCord, Walnut township school, will be accompanist for the other orchestra selections. They are: "Elves Dance" and "Sleeping Beauty," by Tchaikovsky and arranged by E. DeLamater, and "Gloriana Overture," by A. J. Weidt and arranged by R. E. Hildreth.

Cantata Arranged

The Christmas cantata "Childe Jesus," by Joseph W. Clokey and Hazel Jean Kirk, will be presented by the mixed chorus.

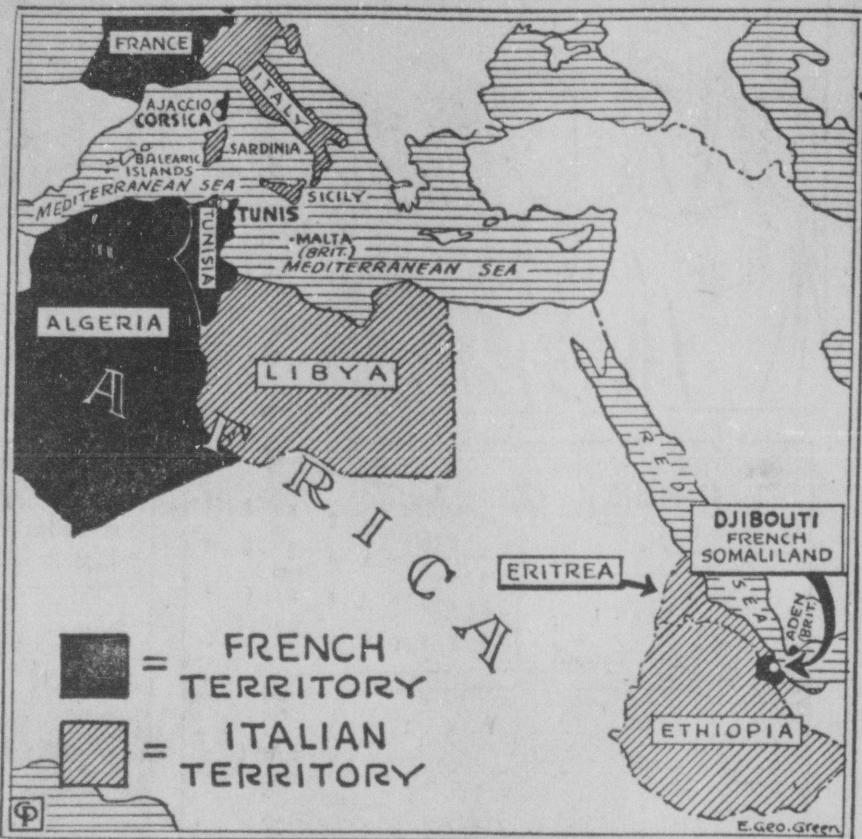

The cantata is under the direction of Miss Ollie M. Ater, vocal instructor of Perry township school. Accompanists are Miss Kathryn White, music instructor of New Holland school, and Miss Winnifred Roubush, music instructor of Walnut township school.

Soloists are: bass, Edwin Dean, Perry township; tenor, Charles Dreishbach, Deer creek; soprano, Janet Kirk, Perry; narrator, bass, Harry Hott, Muhlenberg, and alto, Stella Mae Skinner, Perry. A double quartet for the cantata consists of sopranos, Jean Creighton and Mary A. Bush; altos, Joan Dawson and Mary M. Hamman; tenors, John Peck and Emil Parker, and basses, Edwin Dean and Dan Steele.

11 Parts in Selection

The cantata consists of eleven parts, namely, "The Promise," "The Annunciation," "The Apparition to the Shepherds," "The Adoration of the Shepherds," "The Star," "The Wise Men," "At the Manger," "Mary's Lullaby," "Song of Devotion," "The Childe Jesus," and "Adeste Fideles."

What Italy Wants of France

FRENCH and Italian relations reach a precarious state as a result of Italian demands for Tunisia, French North Africa protectorate, and Corsica, an island in the Mediterranean, which is a French department. Adding to the seriousness of the situation were anti-Italian demonstrations at Ajaccio, Corsica, and Tunis, Tunisia, shown on map. France bought sovereignty of Corsica from the republic of Genoa in a treaty signed in May, 1768.

Farm Security Office Of Aid To Countians

To Pickaway county farm families who need operating credit for the coming year's operations, but who lack sufficient security to obtain loans through normal channels, the Farm Security Administration offers an opportunity of obtaining credit on the basis of character, integrity and farming experience.

This information was announced Friday by Cornell E. Copeland of Circleville who is in charge of the F.S.A. program in Pickaway and Fayette counties.

"Under this program, farm families who are unable to obtain loans from other government or recognized private credit agencies are eligible to apply for loans," he said. "These loans may be obtained for a maximum of five years. The interest is five percent a year on the unpaid balance."

The loans, Mr. Copeland said, constitute only one factor in the rehabilitation program of the F.S.A. Since the purpose of this program is to enable the family regain self-dependence and attain permanent security, major emphasis is placed on management. Before the applicant receives his loan, he and his family are assisted in working out a sound farm and management plan.

The money obtained by means of the loans is expendable only for livestock, machinery, equipment, household fixtures, feed, seed, subsistence and similar articles involved in the operation of the farm and home. They are not available for real estate.

Applications for rehabilitation loans should be made through Mr. Copeland. His office in this county is in the courthouse at Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Evans and son Harley entertained at dinner Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Parker Adkins of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Al Teegarden and daughter of Mt. Sterling.

Mr. McKinley Kirk and daughter Janet entertained at dinner Wednesday for Mrs. Austin Kelley of New Holland and Mrs. Urban Allen of Hillsboro.

Ruth's Singing Not To Sway West Coast Jury

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Six men and six women sat today in the jury box because they said Ruth Etting's plaintive blues singing would not prejudice them at the trial of her former husband, Martin Snyder.

They promised not to be swayed if his daughter, Edith, adopted by Miss Etting, testified against him. Nor if he broke down and cried on the witness stand, nor if Miss Etting did.

They also promised to give Snyder benefit of the doubt if they believed he acted in self-defense, in shooting, as charged, Myrl Alderman.

Snyder faces a possible sentence of 115 years in prison on six counts of kidnaping and attempted murder. Alderman, Miss Etting's pianist and companion after she divorced Snyder last year, was seriously wounded and both women were menaced by a revolver before they chased Snyder out of the Etting home Oct. 15.

As District Attorney U. S. Blalock questioned the jurors, it was indicated that a venire would be accepted by noon.

Blalock never heard Miss Etting sing but "understood that she was a blues singer." As a former Minnesota girl who got her start because she could sing baritone, Miss Etting was directed in her career by Snyder, a Broadway theatrical figure. They married and after 17 years were divorced at Chicago.

Jealousy Charged

She charged him with unreasonable jealousy, said he telephoned across the country, threatening to kill her.

The shooting resulted in a $150,000 alienation of affections suit being filed against Miss Etting by Mrs. Alma Alderman, divorced wife of the pianist. A process server waited at the courtroom door for Alderman, who has avoided making a deposition in the suit. His attorneys, however, filed a $225,000 damage suit against Snyder.

Snyder was at liberty on $40,000 bond. He was accused of kidnaping Alderman from a radio studio, at gun point, and making him drive them to Miss Etting's home. Another kidnaping count involved the technicality of his forcing the women from one room to another of the house, until they got another revolver and disarmed him. Other attempted murder charges involved threats to Miss Etting, and a sixth count was filed for illegal possession of a pistol.

PLANTATION PARTY

Plantation Party, all-southern musical show, makes its debut over the coast-to-coast NBC-Blue network, Friday at 9 p. m. Among the features of the thirty-minute fast-moving entertainment headed by Whitey Ford, will be Jerry Behren's singing of "Lonesome Road;" "There's a Silver Moon on the Golden Gate" by the Girls of the Golden West; a special arrangement of "Swanee River" by Roland Gaines and the thirty-voice Plantation Choir; the Range Riders' interpretation of "Hold That Critter down;" a harmonica solo by Lufe Harkins; the Planters' orchestra playing "Dinah" and "St. Louis Blues;" and the Drifting Pioneer trio's singing of "Mississippi Cabaret." Comedy feature of the program will be the home-spun humor of the Duke of Paducah, played by Whitey Ford.

GOODMAN READY TO MOVE

Benny Goodman and his orchestra wind up their successful stay at New York's Waldorf-Astoria early in January. The crew is slated for a return engagement on the stage of the New York Paramount before embarking on a series of one-nighters.

RADIO NOTES

Dorothy Lamour, and Hubby Herbie Kay, the orch leader, are planning some personal appearances together as soon after the first of the year as her movie schedule will allow her to leave Hollywood.
